

Virtual CEU Event
Sunday, August 23rd, 2020

Please join us, from the comfort of your own home, on Sunday, August 23, 2020 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. for a Virtual Seminar on Infection Prevention with Covid-19 (.2 CEUs).

We encourage members to stay for our Membership General Meeting immediately following the presentation.

MAPE or AEA Members $35

Non Members $45

CEU Recording Fee and certificate of completion included

Event Information

During the “Infection Prevention Starts With You” presentation we will refresh our knowledge of standard infection prevention measures and be better able to identify at-risk skin conditions which will allow us to determine if treatment is appropriate. Additionally, we will be better able to assess and address procedural pain in order to provide an optimal client experience. We will also be updated on the latest Covid-19 infection prevention.

Our speaker, Rachel Stanik, BS BSN MS received her bachelor’s in Public Health, her BSN and MS in Clinical Nurse Leadership from the University of Maryland.

After sending in your registration and payment, be on the lookout for an email invitation including the Zoom meeting link and instructions for attending. Please be sure to include the best email address and phone number for contacting you.

If you are unable access the internet using a computer or mobile device with video, we will have an alternate location in Columbia, MD where we are able to accommodate up to 10 electrologists. We ask that you please consider reaching out to a friend or colleague first, as space is limited. No food or beverages will be provided, and masks are required. Once we receive your registration form notifying us of your need, we will contact you with the location details.

In response to the Covid-19 pandemic we will be continuing to hold our events in a virtual setting until it is safe to be together again.

Please contact MAPE Corresponding Secretary, Tricia Vasquez, LE, CPE at tricia.vasquez13@gmail.com or 301-802-0144 with any questions.
